Relationship between product commoness and number of unique suppliers, Moscow agencies

Probability a purchase is of a given product (higher value = more common/generic product)